

Darwin wants to move this rock up the hill to his doghouse in one trip with his wagon. But it's very, very heavy. He thinks breaking it into five pieces will make it easier to do that.

That will not make any difference. The weight will remain the same.

That will make it heavier, because there are more pieces.

That will make it easier because each piece is lighter.

Leila

Fern

Tomas

Write a response to each person explaining what you think of their idea and why you think that.

Leila

---

---

---

Fern

---

---

---

Tomas

---

---

---